Dialogue on Diversity

2022 Internet Data Privacy Colloquium

February 23, 2021

On behalf of all Washingtonians, it is my pleasure to extend greetings to organizers and attendees of Dialogue on Diversity's 2022 Internet Data Privacy Colloquium: "Modern Communication and the Structures of Privacy: The Unique Human Faculty."

Over the past three decades, Dialogue on Diversity has utilized seminars, colloquia, and conferences to illuminate the perspectives of women and men from diverse cultural, racial, and ethnic backgrounds. Washington, DC is home to nearly 700,000 individuals, each with a unique story to tell and it is our responsibility as Washingtonians to seek understanding of experiences different from our own. When we elevate the voices of the most vulnerable among us, our world expands.

I am always proud to support discussions that bring diverse voices to the forefront of contemporary causes, like the topic of this year's webinar: Modern Communications and the Structure of Privacy. As our media tectonics shift beneath our feet, we will be better-equipped to handle new and emerging obstacles if we incorporate multifaceted and diverse approaches. Thank you to Dialogue on Diversity President and CEO Ma. Cristina Caballero for leading an event that tackles a complex and evolving issue like this one.

Again, my very best wishes to you all for a successful and an enriching webinar!

Mayor, Washington, DC
